Do Contribute!

We heartily welcome contributions from students and faculty members, irrespective of affiliation. The portals for submitting all kinds of content can be found on our website. More specific details regarding the content can also be found there, so please take a close look at the linked page if you are interested in contributing.

Science Articles: We publish write-ups on interesting ideas in science, as long as the content is accessible to a broader audience and not just to the experts. Submit your articles here.

Short Summaries: In order to showcase the frontiers of research, we publish short summaries (350-400 words) of recently published science research articles. The summary should broadly lay out the questions being asked and the new results obtained. Submit your research stories here.

Quizzes and Games: We also feature science games such as crosswords, quizzes and word-link games. If you have content for these games or have new interesting games in mind, please send them our way.

Interview Recommendations: If want us to interview specific scientific personalities or if you have an interview that you want to publish, please get in touch with us.

Submissions are accepted on a rolling basis, so send in your content whenever you are ready.

The Team

Chief Editor
Swarnendu Saha

Editors
Alekhya Kundu
Archita Sarkar
Budhaditya Banerjee
Suman Halder
Shibaraj Sahu
Tanmay Raj

Design and Website
Abhirup Mukherjee
Divyanshu Saha
Manish Behera

Social Media
Sayan Saha

We are currently looking to expand our team. If you are interested in what we do and are confident that you will be able to devote time to this, please reach out to us at scicomm@iiserkol.ac.in. We will be happy to discuss possible roles for you depending on your skills.